The Site's servers are located in the European Union, in Frankfurt (Germany).

4. Intellectual property

All elements of the Site (structure, site map, texts, logos, graphic guidelines, software and databases) are the exclusive property of SINGULART or are used under authorization, and are protected by intellectual property law. This does not apply to the artworks presented on the Site, their reproductions or the content (texts, photographs, videos) provided by artists and galleries, which remain the property of their respective rightholders.

Any reproduction, representation, modification, publication or exploitation of these elements, in whole or in part, by any means whatsoever, without the prior written authorization of SINGULART or, for the artworks and the content provided by artists and galleries, of their rightholders, is prohibited and may constitute an infringement punishable under Articles L. 335-2 et seq. of the French Intellectual Property Code.

5. Personal data and cookies

The processing of personal data carried out by SINGULART on the Site is described in the Privacy Policy. The cookies and similar technologies used on the Site are described in the Cookie Policy. Both documents can be accessed from the footer of the Site.

For any question, or to exercise your rights regarding your personal data, you may contact privacy@singulart.com. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the French data protection authority, the Commission nationale de l'informatique et des libertés (CNIL, www.cnil.fr).

6. Reporting illegal content

To report content on the Site that you consider to be illegal, in particular within the meaning of Regulation (EU) 2022/2065 on a Single Market for Digital Services (Digital Services Act), you may write to contact@singulart.com, stating:

- the exact address (URL) of the content;
- the reasons why you consider it to be illegal;
- your name and email address, unless your report concerns the sexual abuse of children or child sexual abuse material (Articles 3 to 7 of Directive 2011/93/EU);
- that you believe, in good faith, that the information and allegations in your report are accurate and complete.

This address is SINGULART's single point of contact within the meaning of Articles 11 and 12 of the Digital Services Act, both for the authorities of the Member States, the European Commission and the European Board for Digital Services and for users of the Site, who may also reach us by telephone on +33 1 76 44 06 42. Communications may be sent to it in French or English. It is monitored by our teams and does not rely on an automated tool.

7. Limitation of liability

SINGULART uses reasonable means to ensure that the information published on the Site is accurate and up to date, and reserves the right to correct its content at any time without notice. SINGULART cannot, however, be held liable for any omission, inaccuracy or failure to update this information, whether attributable to SINGULART or to the third-party partners that provide it with such information.

Access to the Site may be interrupted, in particular for maintenance operations, without SINGULART incurring any liability as a result.

8. Hyperlinks

The Site may contain links to third-party websites, including the websites of artists and galleries. SINGULART has no control over these third-party websites and accepts no responsibility for their content.

9. Governing law

This legal notice is governed by French law. Failing an amicable resolution, any dispute relating to its interpretation or performance falls within the jurisdiction of the French courts, subject to the mandatory provisions applicable to consumers that allow them to bring proceedings before the courts of their place of residence.

10. Terms and conditions, and editor-in-chief

The use of the Site and the sales concluded on it are governed by the Terms of Use and the General Terms and Conditions of Sale, which can be accessed from the footer of the Site. As the Site is not an online press service within the meaning of Article 1 of French Law No. 86-897 of 1 August 1986, no editor-in-chief separate from the Publication director (section 2) is designated.

11. Contact

For any question regarding this legal notice, you may contact SINGULART at: contact@singulart.com.
